

Internship in Heritage Studies

Supervised Learning Experience in the Center for Heritage Renewal

Prof. Tom Isern, Director

Fall term 2010, an opportunity for a History or Public History major at NDSU to learn the profession by doing – conducting applied research, engaging in public education through digital communications, doing structured work on center projects in historic preservation and heritage tourism. 3 credit hours, which entails 8 hours work per week + attendance and participation in a weekend professional meeting. One student only, upper-division, permission required to enroll.

Interested? Contact Prof. Isern - isern@plainsfolk.com

The mission of the center for Heritage Renewal is to identify, preserve, and capitalize on the heritage resources of North Dakota and the northern plains.

Center for Heritage Renewal

heritagerenewal.org

